NOW IN PAPER

- Time tested, proven strategies that work with the toughest of kids
- Authors have decades of experience at an organization that works successfully with the toughest of tough kids
- Thirty specific, actionable lessons that help parents address difficult and baffling behavior

What's the worst you've ever faced as a parent? An all-out tantrum at the mall? A son who won't take out his earbuds to listen to you? A daughter who's failing at school and won't do her homework? A teen who constantly breaks curfew? A call from the police? Whatever you're dealing with, Raising the Challenging Child will help.

Building on their work at Chaddock, a nonprofit organization that has worked with some of the most challenging kids in the nation for more than 150 years, the authors empower frustrated parents with practical tips and real-life examples on how to

- minimize behavioral meltdowns
- reduce conflict
- increase cooperation
- promote healthy attachment
- improve family relationships

The strategies they share work both for the child going through a difficult phase brought on by life disruption or trauma and for the child facing chronic struggles. Parents, teachers, and those who work with children and youth will find positive, practical steps they can start taking today in order to understand and address the baffling behavior of the child under their care.

Live a Meaningful Life Regardless of Age

- Dr. Stoop is the bestselling author of more than 30 books, including You Are What You Think (over 300,000 sold)
- Encourages readers to look at midlife and beyond as a time of rich choices and opportunities to grow, learn, and enjoy relationships
- Dr. Stoop serves on the Executive Board of the American Association of Christian Counselors and is cohost of the New Life Live program

Growing older is inevitable and, as we often say, it beats the alternative. But just because we age does not mean we must give in to a slow deterioration of our bodies, minds, social circles, and interests. It doesn't mean we need to give up on our dreams, goals, or aspirations. In fact, as people live longer and healthier into old age, we need to decide what we want to do with all the extra years we've been given!

In Living Strong, Finishing Well, Dr. David Stoop draws upon his more than 80 years on the planet and his decades of counseling, speaking, and writing to show you how to live every moment to its fullest until you're finally called home. He shows you how to be yourself, continue the search for meaning, stay humble, build on your friendships, develop resilience, stay teachable, and more as you learn to accept the gifts that come with growing older and wiser in a world that needs what you have to give.

EXCERPT

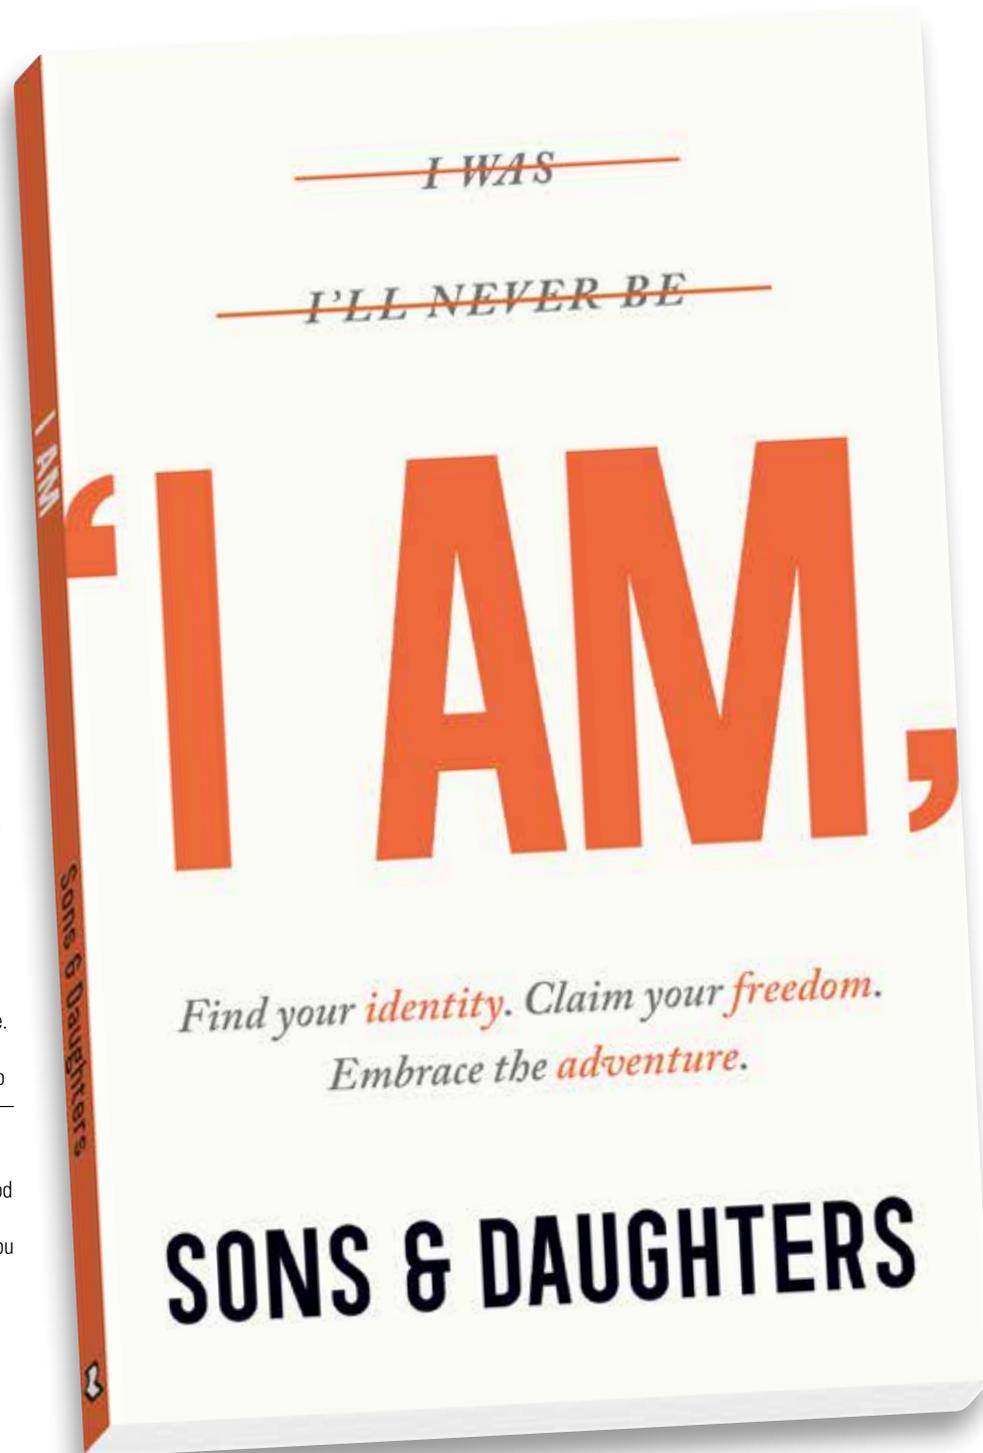

The truth is, God didn't create you to live a life of predictable, boring, self-centered comfort. He didn't make you content to be like everyone else. He didn't design you to fit a mold, match a pattern, or fill a role. God created you unique, one-of-a-kind, with a future that is as individual as you are. So when the thought that "there must be more for me than this" arises, there's a good chance God himself is trying to get your attention.

When you were brought into God's family, you became his son or daughter. That identity change is nothing short of revolutionary. Or it should be. But the pressures of responsibilities and the monotony of the daily grind have a way of shifting our eyes away from who we are to focusing us, slave-like, on what we must do. Henry Thoreau famously observed that, "the mass of men live lives of quiet desperation." But that is not our calling. That is not our destiny. And while we hope it's not your current reality, if it is, we are here to offer hope.

We are passionate about helping people learn to understand their identity, live in the freedom and joy that brings, and become leaders in their spheres of influence.

We want you to see yourself the way God sees you. Only from that will grow the confidence and the strength to really live this adventure that we call life. The deep yearnings inside of you—the desires to be loved, to have a purpose, to succeed, to know God, to impact others—were put there by God not to taunt you, but to encourage you to step into the unknown and experience fully the life God created for you.

Are you listening to that voice? Are you up for the adventure?

The Adventure, Freedom, and Purpose of Walking with God and Each Other

- Authors are team members of Sons & Daughters, a ministry started by the younger Bevere generation
- Messenger International will promote the book using their email list of over 500,000 and social media reach of over 3 million
- Messenger's videos were viewed over 70 million times in 2019

There is a higher way of being, a way that stretches beyond watered-down religion and powerless sentiments. Our world has been waiting for the unveiling of God's glorious sons and daughters, and it's time our generation steps into that reality. In order to do this, we have to defy worldly norms and grab hold of our covenant with God.

If you are struggling with finding your calling in this copy-and-paste world, you are not alone. In I AM _____, Sons & Daughters calls you to stop living to the world's standard and step into the fullness and adventure that God has waiting for you, believing and living the truth that

- you are creative
- you are holy
- you are righteous
- you are secure
- you are called
- you are confident
- you are loved

You are a son or daughter of God Most High—and your future starts now.

We are all born to be difference makers. There are endless opportunities to influence our families, churches, neighborhoods, and communities just by going about our daily lives. A kind word, a helping hand, a sincere prayer—these really are the little things that can make a big difference to the person you’re face to face with.

The simple difference says, I will put on a posture of kindness. I will look for ordinary ways to be the blessing in someone’s day. I will notice others, encourage generously, and serve joyfully out of the abundance of God’s loving grace.

But please don’t mistake simple for surface. We’re going to dive deep into exactly what all these nice-sounding words mean.

Are you with me?

I’m imagining it already... an army of Simple Difference Makers.

What if every traveler was quick to extend kindness to their fellow seat mate? What if every neighbor was ready to fill in the gap of assumptions with grace instead of judgement? What if every boss and coworker and grocery store shopper went out of their way to meet the needs of others? Let’s infiltrate every school and workplace, every subway and bus stop and yogurt shop. The world will start to wonder who we are.

They will soon come to know us by our mark—ordinary, consistent, extravagant kindness.

Make a Lasting Impact Right Where You Are

We've all got a lot of questions these days: In a world marked by division, how do we create bridges of meaningful connection? When despair runs rampant, is real hope possible? When competition is elevated, is compassion still relevant? And at the end of the day, can one person really make any impact at all?

When the world's problems loom large and your ordinary life stretches you thin, it is still possible to be a difference-maker—one small, intentional, extravagant act of kindness at a time.

Rather than telling you to do more, The Simple Difference shows you how to see more: more of the people in front of you, more of God's lavish love for you, more of his power within you. The Simple Difference will help you

- stop getting buried in busyness and distraction and discover countless opportunities for impact right where you are
- remove your perceived limitations and learn to see that your "not-enough" is exactly what the world needs
- discard expectations of what it takes to make a difference and delight in the life-changing power of simple kindness

The Simple Difference isn't about totally changing the course of your life; it's about letting God change you and work through you in the midst of your ordinary days. To say, As I go on my way, Lord, have your way with me. Be a part of The Simple Difference movement—your life and the world will never be the same.

31 Devotions to Help You Accept and Adapt to Change

- Giftable hardcover format with 4-color interior and color photographs
- 31 readings to help women trade anxiety about change for confidence in God's good purposes
- Author is a regular contributor to DaySpring's (in)courage platform and is well connected among Christian women influencers

When difficult or unwanted change enters our lives, it can cause fear, anxiety, and anger to bubble up from within. We want to quiet that simmering stress, but how do we do that, especially when we know our circumstances aren't going to calm down any time soon? By regularly meeting with God and exchanging our worries and fears for his assurances that he is using our difficult change for us, not against us.

Easier said than done? Not if you have Kristen Strong alongside you as your understanding guide. Offering thoughtful, humorous anecdotes and powerful prayers to recite, Strong invites you to think and feel differently about change on the inside so you can live and love differently on the outside. As the tender companion she is, Kristen will show you how not to get over difficult change but rather to get through it. She'll help you acknowledge your change, give your anxieties over to God, and abide well in the days to come—no matter what transitions life brings.

EXCERPT

I don't like "mom" books.

It takes having a horrible day and hitting rock bottom to pick up a book on mothering. Then when I do? After a few pages, I set the book down on my bedside table and throw my head back on the pillow as my mind fills with all the ways I fell short of the "good-mom mark" that day.

Instead of feeling understood, I feel scolded, with layers of "should" piled on my shoulders.

I want you to know that I've had lots of bad parenting moments. I still have four children living under my roof. And I haven't a clue what it takes to turn out a decent human. Because for every formula I've been handed, I've found outlier kiddos whom the formula doesn't fit.

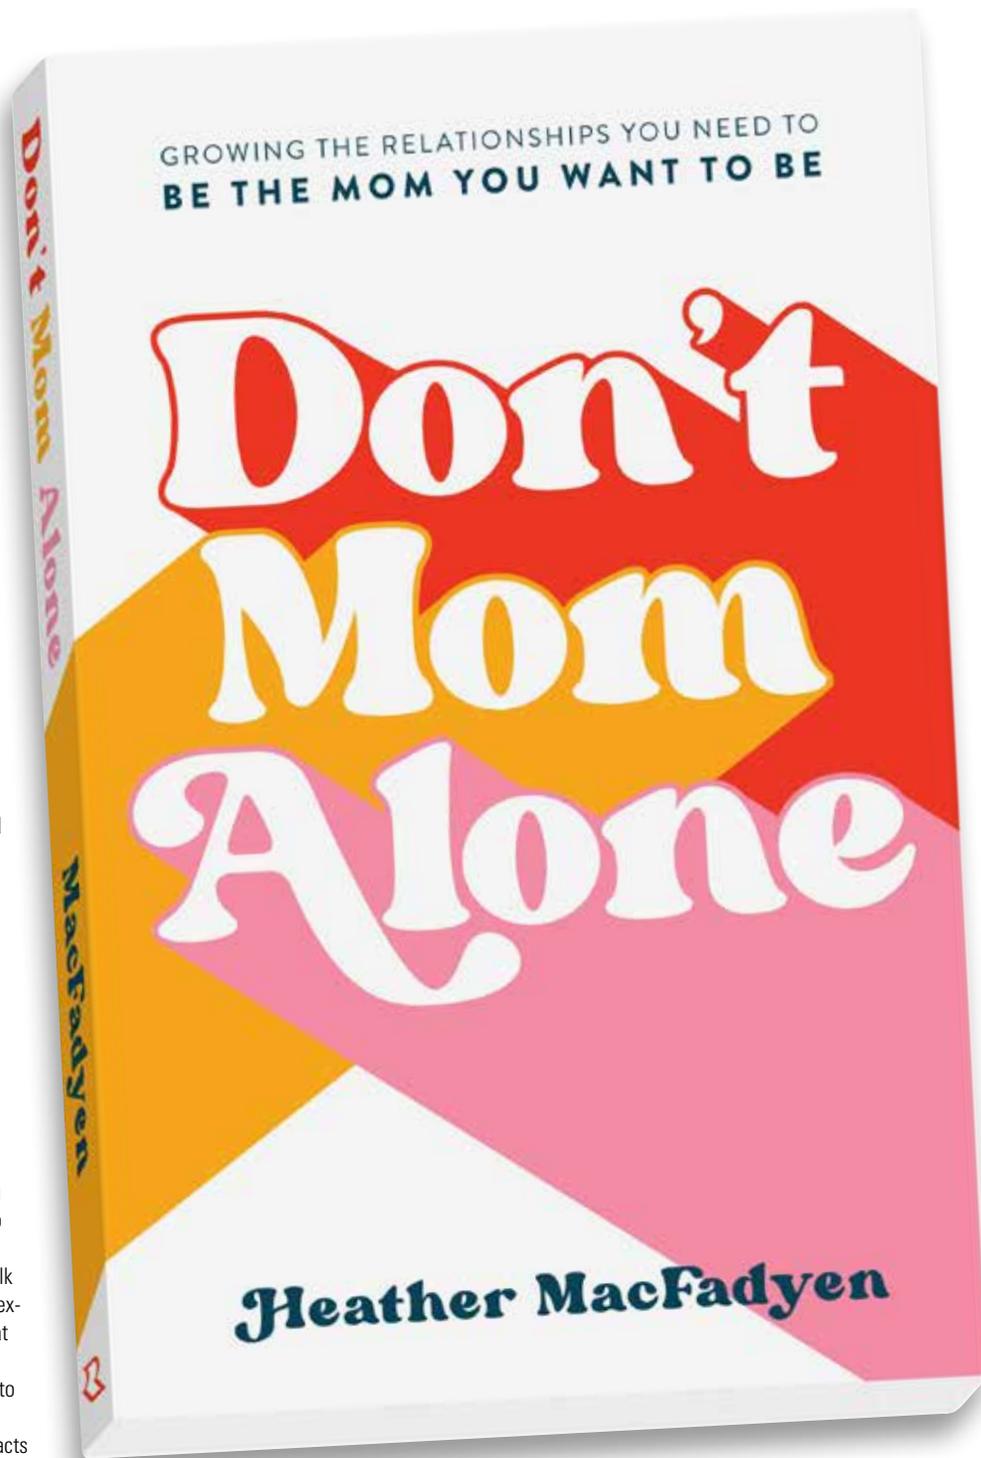

You'd also think I'd be more adept at building community if I was going to write a book about it. But I'm not inherently a team player. Going it alone is much more appealing. If I let other moms see my mess, then I can't keep up an image of perfection. If I admit that I need help, I show that I'm not enough to parent four boys. And what if my boys misbehave and others see my failure and reject me?

These isolating ideas have kept me from the relationships I need to be the mom I want to be. I don't think I'm the only one who'd prefer to isolate rather than lean on the village. Our modern American culture tends toward individualism rather than community living. Because of that, so many of us are carrying the heavy burden of mothering.

So, instead of handing you a formula on how to be a competent mom (psst, it doesn't exist), I'm going to walk with you to address these isolating ideas and help you trade them for connecting truths.

You wouldn't expect a newborn to walk out of the womb. Free yourself from the expectation that you will know exactly what to do in every scenario. Take each stage as it comes. When you don't know what to do, ask someone for help or perspective. Consider what you value and how it impacts your next step. Lastly, trust that God's power to redeem your mistakes is bigger than your power to destroy your children.

Are you ready to move forward? Take my hand; let's do this together and not mom alone.

Grow the Relationships You Need to Be the Mom You Want to Be

- Author's Don't Mom Alone podcast averages 250,000 downloads per month
- Includes vulnerable stories, practical steps, and questions for group discussion
- Author is well connected with authors such as Sally Clarkson, Jennie Allen, Jamie Ivey, and Lisa Bevere

Being a good mom isn't about doing everything right to create a set of perfect trophy children—though every mom has felt the pressure to do just that and to do it all on her own. To ask for help feels like defeat. Yet when we try to do it all by our own strength, we end up depleted, lonely, and ineffective.

Heather MacFadyen wants you to know that you are not meant to go it alone. Sharing her most vulnerable, hard mom moments, she shows how moms can be empowered by God, supported by others, and connected with their children. With encouragement and insight, she helps you foster the key relationships you need to be the mom you want to be.

Whether you work or stay home, whether you have teenagers or babes in arms, you'll find here a compassionate friend who wants the best—not just for your kids but for you.
