Prayer Leader Shows How to Keep Passion for Jesus Alive

- Candler has been a senior leader and speaker at International House of Prayer for over twenty years, and is an International House of Prayer University teacher
- Candler hosts weekly podcasts with IHOPKC, which has 30,000-plus annual website visits
- Author was a main-stage speaker at the Onething conference, which had approximately 20,000 attendees

Fervent passion for Jesus is often one of the first things to fade as we struggle through the daily grind of life, especially after grappling with disappointments and pain. Yet inherent in Jesus’s call to return to our first love is his promise to help us never to lose it—to have a heart sustained in joy, delight, and passion for him all of our days.

International House of Prayer leader Dana Candler shares her own wrestle with weariness and unbelief, and reveals that a heart fully alive in Jesus is not only possible but is the promise and invitation of God’s infinite grace. First Love will guide you to

- discover the root of a loss of fervency and live with a persistent hunger to know Jesus
- successfully navigate relational pain and circumstances that have led to offense, cynicism, and bitterness
- recognize distractions from the enemy and keep your love for God alive
- sustain a tender and burning heart that is unquenched in an hour of increasing darkness

Circumstances change, life plays out, and trials come, but love for Jesus is always to remain alive and provide the fire for your daily walk. The Holy Spirit doesn’t want to only maintain the passion inside of you, but to increase it!

Have you felt like giving up lately? I have. Our struggles may look different, but I'm sure you have endured or are in the thick of a trying season in your life. Maybe thoughts have constantly crossed your mind, like How did I get here? How can this be happening? One thing humankind has in common are the overwhelming feelings that come from things like heartbreak, betrayal, addiction, mental illness, division, lies, deception, tears, sorrow, discouragement, fear, legal battles, shame, guilt, depression, and spiritual warfare we never even knew existed.

Have you ever wondered how something so right—like a great relationship, a meaningful vocation, a spiritual calling, a God-designed dream—can turn out so wrong? Sin, compromise, disobedience, rebellion, worldliness creep in. We're learning how to keep holding on to broken pieces until God makes some kind of sense of it all. The spiritual battle taking place now is real. The attacks you and I have gone through, and are likely still going through, are one part of a much larger attack.

Yes, these are perilous, fierce times, but don't let this discourage you. Things that seem out of our control are still in God's control. You have not escaped His gaze.

Even when you don't feel loved, God loves you. He made you for a purpose. He's going to watch over and take care of you and yours. You're a chosen vessel for such a time as this.

Are you ready?
